

EXPERIENCES WORTH KNOWING

Seeing Nature's Mind | Regenerating Place April 27 to May 2, 2018

“There are moments when the heart is generous, and then it knows that for better or worse our lives are woven together here, one with one another and with the place and all the living things.” — Wendell Berry, Jayber Crow

Seeing the unique patterns of a place enables us to make the best design decisions for that place. It allows us to join the evolving story of that place instead of imposing the same blandness that belongs to nowhere. This spring, we are offering you the opportunity to see with a different mind. To explore and understand the patterns of a particular place, and then to apply what we have learned to an on-going master plan for a specific place in the Catskill mountains. Join us to learn through direct experience and specific application.
