Allentown Multi-Family Houses

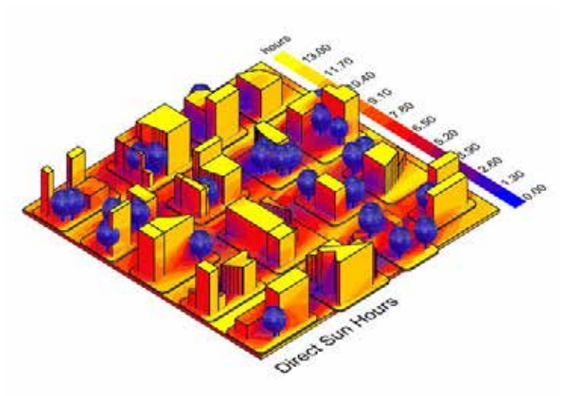

The 1st and 6th wards of Allentown face a housing crisis. There is also a lack of neighborhood connectivity. To address these challenges, I designed a solution incorporating inclusive spaces that increases housing options and strengthens bonds between homes on adjacent streets and alleys. This approach reflects my commitment to fostering vibrant, close-knit communities.

Urban Kitchen

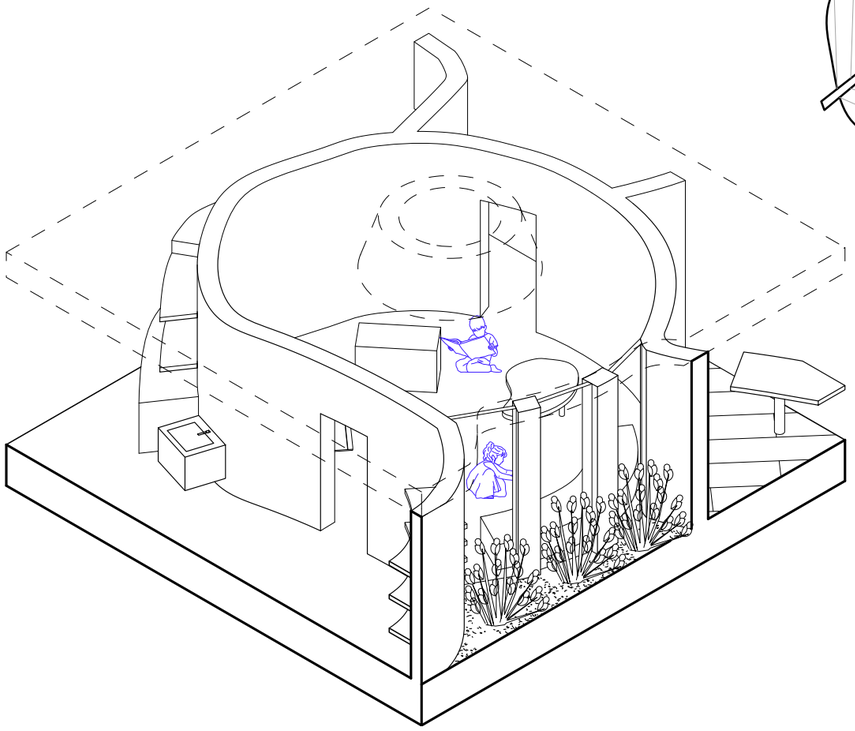

Bethlehem, PA is missing community and inclusive spaces. So through this concept featuring childcare facilities and a Fujian earth oven, I created a hub where everyone can connect through shared culinary experiences. This approach, driven by my passion for inclusive design, reflects my commitment to foster interconnected communities.

The Fijian Lovo Earth Oven process, which traditionally takes many hours and communal effort, is a way to introduce different cultures to the community.
